NO REGRETS

ASB

ASB is a class
That is made to serve the student mass
For everyone we try to represent
A variety of different events.
We decorate, plan, and coordinate
As we all work hard to make this place great!
Our theme this year is "No Regrets"
We want all to be involved and no one to fret.
We want kids to engage themselves and to live it up.
Since we only get one chance at high school.
But on the flip side, we don't want them to mess up.
And do things that make them say, "Why am I such a fool?"
With the fun comes the class time, homework and tests.
Although very important, don't get caught up in the stress.
For the memories aren't of these but of all the rest.

Give it up
NO REGRETS
-ASB (submitted by Amanda Potter)

Homecoming Week 2005

Monday

Monday October 3rd: Students supported their class by donning their class color. These mobs of color were seen at the assembly where the Homecoming Court was announced. Monday night at the Buff Puff game the seniors defeated the juniors.

Tuesday

Tuesday October 4th: Nerds invaded Wa-Hi showing their spirit in an unconventional way. Tuesday night brought the Cram the Gym Volleyball game and a new event, the Pack the Pool Swim Meet.

Wednesday

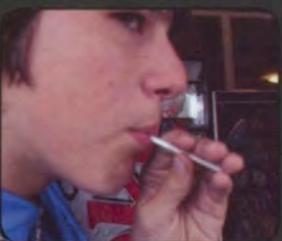

Wednesday October 5th: A favorite day for most students, Pajama Day, fell on a late start this year. A welcome change to most. Later that night Junior and Senior girls went face to face during the Powder Puff game which saw a Junior victory.

Thursday

Thursday October 6th: A day greeted by numerous eras in which a party to end all parties consummated during both lunches in the commons. Thankfully the evening was a quiet one with no activities in which the students could recover from the week.

Friday

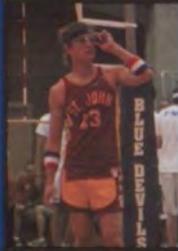

Friday, October 7th: Students went out to show their support at the annual Homecoming Game where Wa-Hi played the Chiefs. A highlight of the night was when Jared Johnson and Amanda Potter were crowned King and Queen.

Music of the Night

This year's Homecoming Dance, themed "Music of the Night", saw students arrive in flocks, dressed to the nines for this star-studded event.

The Homecoming Committee went to extra lengths to make the gym sparkle. With sweeping staircases to the chandler, the gym never looked better.

NO COMPARISON

Walla Walla High School is one of a kind. During a single school day, students must bear the elements up to eight times; rain or shine. Wa-Hi students have come to accept the challenges as well as the beauty of our sprawling campus. Numerous trees and a vegetation-surrounded creek are just some of the features that set our campus apart from the rest. Other notable quirks of Wa-Hi include a seagull screecher to frighten off those pesky birds, our own barn with livestock, and various campus dogs. In the coming years, this could be no more. The idea of building a new campus that groups together Science and Academics, as well as adding our own sports stadium, has been in the works. Regardless of Wa-Hi's future it will always be a unique place to learn.

THE IMPORTANCE of BEING ERNEST

John Worthing, a carefree young gentleman, is the inventor of a fictitious brother, "Ernest", whose wicked ways afford John an excuse to leave his country home from time to time and journey to London, where he stays with his close friend and confidant, Algernon Moncrieff. Algernon has a cousin, Gwendolen Fairfax, with whom John is deeply in love. During his London sojourns, John, under the name Ernest, has won Gwendolen's love, for she strongly desires to marry someone with the confidence-inspiring name of Ernest. But when he asks for Gwendolen's hand from the formidable Lady Bracknell, John finds he must reveal he is a foundling who was left in a handbag at Victoria Station. This is very disturbing to Lady Bracknell, who insists that he produce at least one parent before she consents to the marriage.

Returning to the country home where he lives with his ward Cecily Cardew and her governess Miss Prism, John finds that Algernon has also arrived under the identity of the nonexistent brother Ernest. Algernon falls madly in love with the beautiful Cecily, who has long been enamored with the mysterious, fascinating brother Ernest.

With the arrival of Lady Bracknell and Gwendolen, chaos erupts. It is discovered that Miss Prism is the absent-minded nurse who twenty years ago misplaced the baby of Lady Bracknell's brother in Victoria Station. Thus John, whose name is indeed Ernest, is Algernon's elder brother, and the play ends with the two couples in a joyous embrace.

Evening at the Oscars

A star studded night at Wa-Hi.

Anthony Wellington-Buttice is awestruck at the sight of all the various stars who showed up for the evening's festivities.

Jake Carlson and Malia Suzui danced the night away dressed as British soccer star David Beckham and former Spice Girl Victoria 'Posh' Beckham.

Many of the dance-goers enjoyed a festive dinner before heading out to the dance itself.

» A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

Mat Waring, Ciara Christensen, Justie Nunez, and Chava Lees pose for the paparazzi.

» SAY CHEESE PLEASE

A selection of spirited students went all out for the night's festivities.

» HOW ROMANTIC!!

A couple comes together to enjoy each other's company during one of the night's slow dances.

Frolics: a term unfamiliar to many schools, but here at Wa-Hi they mean dancing fun. Throughout the year different organizations get a chance to host a frolic. 2005-2006 brought the Luau, the Techno Frolic, and the Halloween Frolic, among others.

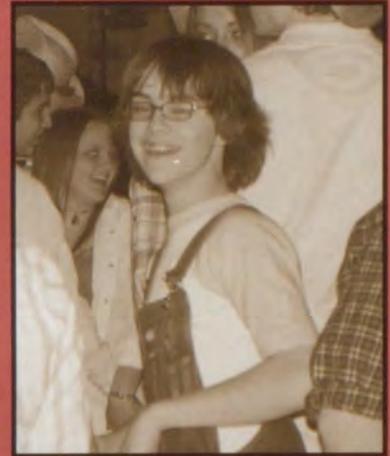

FROLIC

SADIE HAWKINS

DENIM AND DIAMONDS

THIS YEAR'S SADIE HAWKINS DANCE HAD A GREAT TURNOUT. STUDENTS FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE CAME OUT DRESSED IN THEIR FINEST COUNTRY GEAR.

SADIE HAWKINS ORIGINATED IN THE COMIC LIL' ABNER, PICTURED ABOVE, WHERE EACH YEAR THERE WAS A RACE IN WHICH ALL OF THE GIRLS CHASED THE BOYS AND WHICHEVER ONE THEY COULD CATCH THEY GOT TO MARRY.

CAMP

Camp gave students a time and place to socialize with their peers. Several teachers also accompanied the youth and showed students that they are not all work but that they know how to have fun too..

FIRST ANNUAL

This year Wa-Hi held their first annual leadership camp up at Camp Meadow Wood Springs. There were two different sessions the first in December of 2005, and the second in March 2006. The camp was put on for students, by students in an effort to bridge the gap between students, teachers and cultural differences. Camp gives everyone an opportunity to interact in a setting outside of school, therefore providing them with the chance to meet people they would otherwise miss. The camp environment is free of judgement, allowing kids to break away from traditional social boundaries. The friendships that camp establishes are one of a kind, and cannot be replicated. Camp is a completely new experience for students at Wa-Hi and it has become a tradition that will be continued throughout the years.

A colorful banner greets students as they arrive to their first day of leadership camp.

Camp Meadow Wood Springs created a serene and picturesque get away for the campers. Snow covered trees and dangling icicles reflected the sun's beautiful beams of light for all to see.

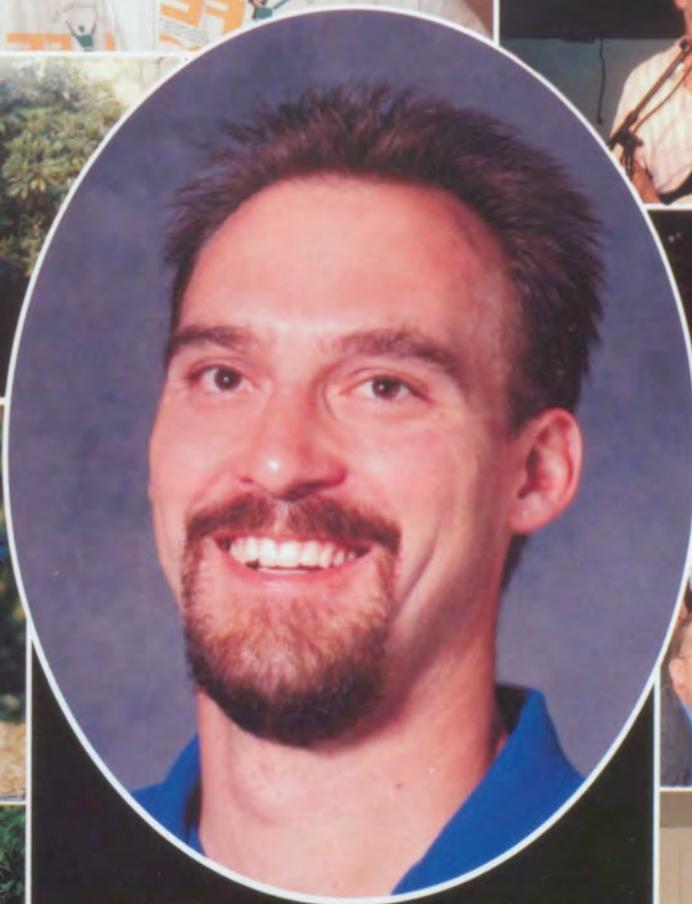

COOL THOUGHT
 "Camp was a great opportunity to meet people, and talk to other people about my problems, and realize that they went through some of the same things that I have."
 -Ashley Delgado

Conspiracy of Hope

Pictured above, Dave Meyer, was a symbol of hope and perseverance to all who knew him. The proceeds of this years' Conspiracy went to the Dave Meyer Conspiracy of Hope Memorial Scholarship Fund and the American Cancer Society in his memory.

Conspiracy of Hope, an annual event put on by Wa-Hi students, wowed crowds with the amazing effort and talent put forward by the students. MCs Jake Carlson and Adam Hair (above) kept the audience laughing as Adam tried to uncover the conspiracy that revolved around Conspiracy of Hope. In the end, however; it was sidekicks Sean Parsons and Jason Barber who foiled the plot of the evil Mr. Ahrens (right) who was trying to kidnap Adam and Jake.

WA-HI THEATER PRESENTS

Beauty and the Beast

A visual spectacle took Wa-Hi by storm in March of 2006. The elaborate costumes and familiar songs filled the auditorium with nostalgic audiences every night.

A CLASSIC LOVE TRIANGLE Gaston, played by Preston Gilbert, wants Belle, Sharon Rowley, who wants more than her "provincial life". In looking for her adventure, Belle finds the Beast, Jared Johnson, who cannot become human again until he learns to love. What is a girl to do?

I was just thinking the other day about how fresh "Beauty and the Beast" is. So, why is that? Well, part of it has to do with the fact that it is fairly new as far as musicals go. This means that it has not been too terribly overproduced, which is the case, most of the time, with the standard golden age fair. That has a lot to do with it, but not all. Part of what makes the show special is the fact that it has not been killed by the movie. Once Hollywood does a movie version of a Broadway show it is almost over for those who hope to re-tell or reinterpret the story. The movie stars become the icons of that particular piece and it seems as though that image cannot be shaken. When you think of the big ones you think of the movie, and I dare say not the last time you saw it live. Test the theory. This show is different because the chicken came before the egg, if you can get me. The movie came first, and it was a cartoon at that. Any breathing being can make this their own. Unless of course, they make a movie based on a play that is based on the cartoon. Then all bets are off. You don't remember who was the voice of Belle in the cartoon, do you?

Another thing that makes this a wonderful visual spectacle is the production value. Dancing veal, a big teapot, someone dressed as a living candelabra. You don't see that everyday. It all adds up to exotic.

Like all good musicals it starts off with a great song. The solos are chocked full of pathos and glory and all of the group numbers build to an exciting climax. There are plenty of musicals that make it seem like the songs are just commercial breaks in between the story telling, but this show is one of those great expectations. The music catches you and pushes the story forward at a breakneck pace.

With a great cast of wonderful kids, we hope that this will be a show in all aspects of that word.

~Director Brian Senter, March 2006

BE OUR GUEST One of the largest numbers in the play features singing and dancing condiments, utensils, plates, and, of course, the leader of the number, the candelabra, Lumier portrayed by Michael Blackwood.

A SONG AND DANCE Endless hours of rehearsal went into the preparation for the production, not to mention the hard work of a dedicated crew, makeup artists, and costume makers.

QUITE THE CAST This year the musical consisted of a larger cast than usual for Wa-Hi productions. However, the numbers did not change the cast dynamics, most of the actors felt like they were part of a large family.

{The Actors Speak Out}

"I love being something that I'm not. I am a really laidback, go-with-the-flow kind of guy; Cogsworth is so uptight and a handful. Playing someone that you are not is fun. Plus I get to speak in a high British accent."

- Kevin Nims, Senior

"I'm a little sad that this is my last play, but it's been great going out on this show. There are a lot of good memories and a lot of good times."

- Jared Johnson, Senior

"It's fun being a princess and Beauty and the Beast is my favorite Disney movie ever. To play Belle is just like a dream come true."

- Sharon Rowley, Senior

"Usually my motivation would be centered around the other actors, but the only motivation Gaston has is himself, so that has been really different. It's kind of funny playing someone deeply in love with himself, I'm always wanting to apologize to the people I'm mean to."

- Preston Gilbert, Junior

No Editors, No Yearbook!

You think you know, but you have no idea..

On any given day we can be found lounging in our luxurious, reclining chairs--which we have earned through hours of tedious work. Although our computers.. namely Kelsey B's, like to crash, we always get our work done.

This is the diary of the Walla Walla High School Yearbook Editors; a glimpse into our glamorous life. On the outside we look average, but we are anything but.

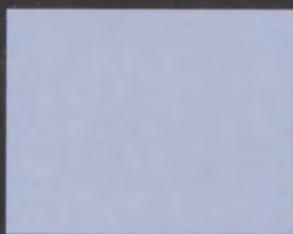

Nummy Lorem Ipsum. Nummy
Nummy Lorem!

At times we like to chant this. It makes for good fun and creates a warm and welcoming environment for all. If you say "nummy" to any the four editors will break out with the chant.

Whenever any newbie (substitute) enters our world, they are often unprepared for the onslaught of "the noises". There is whistling, weird voices, random singing, cell phone calls (Kelsey G.) and of course the happening tunes of Mr. Peck's iTunes and Audrey's iPod.

Though we are fun-loving and humble girls, we do have our demands. We must have available to us all of the following: Wheat Thins, carrots, apples, of course coffee and occasionally cookies. Without these items, we simply do not function.

Living La Vida Loca!
Ricky Martin has become an icon of the yearbook office this year. If you haven't noticed The Window AKA Corner of Love, you must be blind.

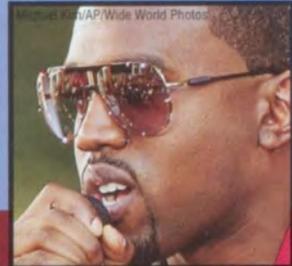

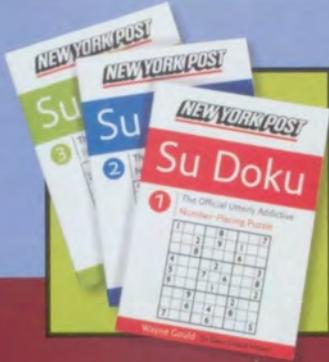

There are times when weekend rendezvous are needed. These are cold. The building has no heat and hands get numb. During our last encounter with the unheated building we finally figured out how to stay warm: blankets and a space heater! It only took about seven months to come up with the idea.
